Drinks List

Welcome

A book of wines, people and moments.

This list tells stories of places, seasons and generations, and creates new ones around every table.

At its heart, this list looks to Italy, and especially to Tuscany, a place where wine and food have always been inseparable from the way people gather, talk, linger and live.

We hope that somewhere between a familiar bottle and an unexpected discovery, it might transport you for a moment: to a long table under the Tuscan sun, to conversations that stretch a little longer than planned, and to the simple pleasure of sharing something good.

Because no story is ever complete until it is shared.

Whether this is your first glass or one of many shared over the years, tell us what you love, or what you've never tried. Both are good places to start.

We're glad you're here.
